

13
14
15
16
17
18
19
20
21
22
23
24
25

thirteen

PUT A CONCIERGE ON RETAINER

By all means, make your assistant chase after your every whim. But if you don't have an assistant, and you're prone to odd last minute desires—I need a chinchilla halter top to give my girlfriend tonight! Oh, and can you send some topiary animals over to my place in Malibu?—then join a concierge service. The MacGoachy Brothers of Mint Lifestyle in L.A. are the go-to guys for dumb, tyrannical, irrational demands of all kinds. (from $12,000 for a one-year membership. mintlifestyle.com.)

14

PACK YOUR BIKE IN A SUITCASE

Through some miracle of engineering smarts, the designers at Bike Friday have come up with a road bike that rides like a racing model but folds up small enough to fit in your luggage. They'll customize it to your specs—a top-of-the-line model gets you Shimano Dura-Ace gearshifts and brakes. Check your Air Friday at the gate and ride away from baggage claim for your tour of the Dolomites ($1,998 and up. bikefriday.com.)

15 Get carried up Kilimanjaro ($9,400 per person for a group of 12; wildernessafrica.com) 16 Go to Galatoire's for oysters en brochette ($17.50; 209 Bourbon St., New Orleans; 504-525-2021) 17 Cashmere socks [18 Vicuña bathrobe ($1,300; from Loro Piana, 212-980-7961) 19 Stay in a villa at Temenos in Anguilla ($30,000 to $50,000 a week; temenosvillas.com) 20 The Tele Vue 85 telescope ($2,080; televue.com) 21 Krell 450 MCX monoblock amplifier ($18,000 a pair; krellonline.com) 22 Order the first legal jamon iberico ($199 deposit required, total price about $1,000; tienda.com) 23 Sleep at Residenza Napoleone III in Rome (from $950 a night; prestigiousrome.com) 24 Soak in a personal plunge pool at the Four Seasons in Punta Mita, Mexico 25 Fish for wild king salmon, then take a helicopter to ski virgin powder in Alaska in June ($8,000 for two; chugachpowderguides.com)

DAB A FEW DROPS OF L'OCCITANE'S

amazing Cade Travel Oil on your face before you pass out in that dry-ired hotel suite or that desiccating first-class cabin. Not only will it keep your skin from going all Godzilla on you, but the juniper scent will help you battle the beast of insomnia ($24.usa.loccitane.com.)